I think it the part of wisdom not to change the representative every year, as by one session the representative learns much that is useful to him in future legislation. The knowledge of proceeding and of transaction of business acquired therein, fits him the better for the station to which he is elected—" experience is the best of teachers."

I have the first censure to observe of my votes during the last session, and I believe my conduct therein has met the views of my constituents.

The larger the majority in Jefferson and other Democratic counties, the more certain a Democratic majority in the State at large. In order, then, that there may be no "stay at homes," let us organize a Cleveland and Hendricks Club. Let such ortituents.

besides the money was borrowed from a source that was not pressing for payment and the ordinary taxes argely. There were efforts made by leading Republicans to increase our taxes largely. There were efforts made by leading Republicans in the House to do so, but the Democracy stood up manfully and they were voted down.

I voted a liberal sum as an appropriation to Shepherd College, with which the Trustees have thoroughly repaired and elegantly painted the building. The renovated building (the old Court House) is now an ornament to Shepherds town and speaks well for the taste of the citizens, besides the gratifying intelligence is received that an increase of eight during the last session is made to the graduates.

It is neckes further to particularize my many votes on sundry subjects but this I will say, my best efforts were used to promote the benefit of the State. And if nominated and re-elected by you I shall promise not to slacken my endeavors for your advantage, but shall feel called upon by this renewed instance of your confidence to redouble my efforts in behalf of the people.
